

Learners of All Ages – Come to Share Fair Nation!

All community members are invited to Share Fair Nation, a day of free, interactive science, technology, engineering, arts and mathematics (STEAM) learning and fun March 7 at River Bluff High School in Lexington. Hosted by the University of South Carolina College of Education and River Bluff High School, Share Fair Nation encourages students, families, educators, schools, community groups and leaders to explore, invent, and experiment.

Families and groups – Children of all ages will enjoy the STEAMosphere, a large, vendor-style event that highlights emerging technologies through multiple hands-on, interactive STEAM activities. (Registrants for the SC-SIC Annual Meeting will automatically be registered for the STEAMosphere.) Click here for full details. Click here to register your group.

Educators – Share Fair Nation offers educators a day of free, thought-provoking, highly interactive symposia and professional development workshops. Click here for full details. Click here to sign up for workshops.

Schools & Vendors – Showcase projects, products and services that demonstrate real-world application of science, technology, engineering, the arts and mathematics. Email wragg@ed.sc.gov to request space.
