

Share Fair Nation Returns to SC Next Month

Share Fair South Carolina, a free professional development event for educators, is scheduled to return this year on Saturday, March 12, at Irmo High School, 6671 St. Andrews Road, Columbia. One of nine similar events sponsored by Share Fair Nation in states across the country, Share Fair South Carolina will be hosted by School District Five of Lexington & Richland Counties. The day-long event of sessions and workshops will provide opportunities for educators to engage with some of the most creative and innovative minds in the nation. To register for this free event, visit www.sharefairnation.com.
